Succeeds Cummings As National Head of Hibernian Order.

Missionary Spirit Shown By Delegates in Voting Funds For Church.

New President Heartily Favors Back to the Soil Idea.

LADIES RETAIN OLD OFFICERS

The forty-seventh national convention of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, which began its sessions at Portland, Ore., on Tuesday of last week, was brought to a most auspicious close on Friday evening. Much was accomplished in the four days, and while there were disappointments for some of the delegates, the majority was pleased with the general result. One of the last matters taken up was the election of officers. It resulted as follows:

National President—James J. Regan, of St. Paul, Minn.

National Vice President—Joseph McLaughlin, of Philadelphia.

National Secretary—James F. McGinnis, of Scranton, Pa.

National Treasurer—Thomas J. Maloney, of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

These officers with the following constitute the National Board of Directors: William J. Doherty, Illinois; Michael F. Powers, Michigan; William T. McLaughlin, New Jersey; Patrick T. Moran, Washington, D. C.; and Charles J. Foy, Canada.

Matthew Cummings, who had been National President for two terms, aspired to re-election, but was defeated by the narrow margin of twelve votes. Chicago was the unanimous choice for the national convention in 1912.

The convention adopted resolutions urging the compulsory study of Irish history in parochial schools, and advising reconciliation and unanimity among all Irish societies striving for the freedom of Ireland. The delegates also pledged the order to raise $40,000 for the extension of the church in Oregon and Canada. Of this $20,000 is to be spent in local action. This action is one of the most magnificent and important events in the history of the Hibernians. Archbishop Christie, of Portland, was present when the matter was settled, and gave the delegates his special blessing as a token of regard.

Following this incident James O'Sullivan, of Lowell, Mass., was given the floor. He said he was elated by the missionary spirit shown by the delegates. He gave $500 to the cause out of his own pocket, and promised to give $500 more next year. This caused Archbishop Christie to arise again, and he said the next chapel built in Oregon would be erected with the money given by Mr. O'Sullivan.

The question of organization of a national insurance society under the auspices of the order was discussed at length, and it was finally decided that the incoming officers be authorized to formulate plans for the establishment of the society. The new national officers and directors were clothed with full power to act in the matter. It will be optional with State organizations to join the insurance branch.

James J. Regan, the new National President, has just completed a term as National Vice President. He is well known to Hibernians throughout the country, and his admirers are certain that he will make an able chief executive. Mr. Regan is Superintendent of Streets in St. Paul, and the admirable condition of that city's thoroughfares speaks volumes for his executive ability and devotion to duty.

One important resolution that was adopted was that offered by the Press Committee. It calls for allegiance and support of the Irish and Catholic press, and urged fair-minded men to give due consideration to the press that has been hostile to Ireland and has seen fit to caricature the race and assail the officers of the Hibernians.

James J. Regan, the newly elected President, is a firm believer in the "back-to-the-soil" idea. He is in the course of a few days at numbers of well-to-do Americans would own country similar to those of Ireland. After his election he has been in Minnesota where he has Irish people brought from distressed districts of the old country, and the efforts of Archbishop McLaughlin and Bishop McLaughlin who have settled on farms here. These people had come to this world's goods, but in twenty-five or thirty years they have become some of the most prosperous and influential residents of the Commonwealth.

The auxiliary also met in Portland last week. Aside from the convention of reports, little new was developed, although the heard addresses from several men. The following national officers were re-elected:

President—Mrs. Anna C. Malia, Scranton, Pa.
Vice President—Mrs. Mary McCarthy, Westfield, Mass.
Secretary—Mrs. Louis Du Ross, Utica, N. Y.
Treasurer—Mrs. Mary B. Daly, Minneapolis.

These with the following ladies constitute the National Board of Directors: Mrs. Mary McWhorter, Chicago; Miss Mollie Fox, Fort Wayne, Ind.

HIGH MASS.

Parents of Father Monaghan Are Proud and Happy.

Sunday was a glad day for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Monaghan, of Central City, Ky. Their boy, Patrick M. Monaghan, celebrated his first high mass in St. Martin's church, his home parish. Father Monaghan was ordained by the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue on July 15, and celebrated his first mass at St. Patrick's church in this city on the following day.

The young Levite was born in Ohio about twenty-four years ago. When quite a small boy his parents removed to Central City. At an early age young Patrick showed a vocation for the priesthood. His good parents encouraged him and at the age of thirteen he was sent to college. His theological studies were completed at Mount St. Mary's, Emmitsburg.

The Rev. Father Andrew Meyerling, of Daviess county, was the assistant priest at the high mass last Sunday. A number of other clergymen from Western Kentucky assisted at the mass.

Following the mass a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Monaghan in honor of the young priest, when non-Catholics as well as Catholics called to welcome him home.

INDIANAPOLIS.

Father Chartrand Named Auxiliary to Bishop Chatard

Catholics of Indianapolis and Indiana were most agreeably surprised Monday when news was received from Rome that the Rev. Joseph Chartrand, pastor of Sts Peter and Paul Cathedral, had been appointed Auxiliary to Bishop Chatard, with the right of succession, succeeding the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue, who became head of the Louisville diocese last March. Bishop Chatard is one of the most popular men among the clergy of Indiana as well as one of the most able, and his appointment means much to the diocese of Indianapolis.

The Rev. Father Chartrand's name was one of three selected by the electors of the diocese and the irreverent rectors and submitted to the Bishops of the Cincinnati province, nine in number, including Archbishop Moeller; Bishop Chatard, Indianapolis; Bishop Allerding, Ft. Wayne; Bishop O'Donoghue, Louisville; Bishop Maes, Covington, Ky.; Bishop Foley, Detroit; Bishop Richter, Grand Rapids; Bishop Byrnes, Nashville; Bishop Hartley, Columbus, O.; and Bishop Farley, Cleveland, who met in April to pass upon the names. The selection or selections of the Bishops then went to the Consistorial Congregation of Cardinals, and the final selection was made. This selection was ratified by the Pope Saturday morning. Bishop-elect Chartrand was born in St. Louis.

GREAT SHOWING

Made by the L. C. B. A. at Triennial Meeting in Cleveland.

The Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association, which has been holding its triennial convention at Cleveland, Ohio, closed its work by electing the following national officers: President, Miss Kate Mahoney, Troy; First Vice President, Mrs. Mary Marz, Buffalo; Second Vice President, Miss Frances McGee, Scranton; Recorder, Mrs. A. J. Rayer, Erie; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary E. Costello, Brooklyn.

Mrs. E. M. McGowan, of Buffalo, who had been Supreme President for twenty years, declined to stand for re-election. As a mark of esteem the members of the society presented Mrs. McGowan with a $5,000 automobile.

One thousand delegates attended the convention. The reports up to the first of June showed that the organization had 1,084 branches and 117,901 members. The order is in sound financial condition.

WELCOME

Accorded Right Rev. Denis O'Donoghue by Local Councils of Y. M. I.

New Bishop Gives Hearty Response to Good Wishes Expressed.

Four Hundred Members of Order Gathered Around the Board.

GALAXY OF YOUNG ORATORS

Four hundred members of the Young Men's Institute of Louisville gathered around the banquet board in the Galt House Monday night to meet and greet the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donoghue. A thundershower delayed the festivities for an hour, but when the clouds passed away and the stars came out both Mackin and Trinity boys hurried to the festive board. It was nearly 9 o'clock when the young men, the flower of young Catholic manhood in Louisville, marched in and were seated around the long tables in the main dining hall. The speakers' table was extended along the southern side of the hall, while five tables extended from north to south. Bishop O'Donoghue was escorted into the dining hall by Grand President Robert T. Burke, Grand Chaplain Rev. George M. Connor, Rev. Father J. R. Odell, of Henshaw, and Michael J. Brennan, a member of Mackin Council and of cousin of the Bishop.

Grand Chaplain Connor invoked a blessing on the feast. After an elaborate menu had been discussed Father Connor delivered a brief but feeling welcome to Bishop O'Donoghue. He bade him thrice welcome as the chief pastor of the diocese of Louisville, and extended greetings in behalf of the Y. M. I. in Kentucky, and added:

"They are tried and true, dear Bishop; they have had difficulties and discouragements to face, but they have met them with an indomitable will and determination which nothing could daunt; they have gone over the rough places bravely, scaled the steep ones without faltering and the splendid results which now crown their efforts have not turned their heads or altered the even balance of their unfailing good sense. They will be faithful to your lordship and rejoice in all that they can do for you in their humble way; they will be prompt and ready for every service, would love to anticipate each desire, happy could they prove themselves, as I know they can and will, a strong right arm to their Bishop, whose wish is their pleasure."

All eyes were centered upon the Bishop when he arose to respond. He thanked Father Connor and the members of Mackin and Trinity Councils for their presence and the cordial greeting. He said he would try to be worthy of the kind expressions to which the Grand Chaplain had alluded, but he would not be tyrannical, but he expected the support of the Young Men's Institute as well as of all other societies of Catholics in his diocese. He told of his acquaintance with the Y. M. I. in Indianapolis; how he had encouraged and fostered its growth there, and commented upon the possibilities of the organization in Louisville and throughout the diocese. Then his Lordship said among other things:

"Here in Kentucky, and notably here in the diocese of Louisville, I know you are a great help to the community. The organization helps its members also. They encourage each other, and great opportunities are afforded of extending benefits to one another, and becoming better citizens and better Catholics. In these days of adversity are almost necessary. The man who is not Catholic may join any society he chooses. He prides himself upon his fraternal society. It may be forbidden to Catholics and the Catholic young man may sometimes feel like an orphan; he may even be led to forget the duties to his church and become a member of an organization that would bar him from the privileges of the church. The Y. M. I. fills this void. It affords every opportunity offered by any of the other societies, and sometimes more. The outside societies can offer him nothing equal to what his own Y. M. I. offers him."

"To succeed you must be obedient to the rules of your organization. You must select your best men to fill your offices. One of the dangers that have to be avoided is that you may get a little independent, and because of your numbers you may think that you may transgress the rules of the church with impunity; but it is by following the precepts of the church that you will become great. I stand always ready to give to the Louisville councils any advice, aid or help in my power. The priest can do a great deal, but he cannot do everything. He needs the generous support of his parish and the sustaining love of his people. The Bishop, in the same way, must look for aid and encouragement from those about him. I shall not use my episcopal power to lord it over the people, but to warn them against dangers, and in return I shall expect your help in the great work I have in Louisville. I wish to express in a word the great pleasure it is to be with you this evening, and I appreciate fully the honor you do me. I hope I shall always prove worthy of that help and confidence which I shall always expect from you. I wish you great success."

After the applause subsided Grand President Robert T. Burke assumed the role of toastmaster. He had a brief and trite introduction for each of the succeeding speakers. "Catholic Fraternity" was the theme of James B. Kelly's discourse. Thomas D. Clines responded to "Defenders of the Faith." Victor K. Ecker, President of Trinity Council, spoke on the "Y. M. I. in the East End." "Our Physical Development" was the subject assigned to Louis J. Kieffer. Dr. Frank S. Clark responded to the "Y. M. I. for the Young Man." Dr. A. R. Bizot closed the evening with an address on "The Present Age." All the speakers acquitted themselves admirably, and the Bishop expressed his pleasure at all he had seen and heard. The evening's festivities made all present better members of the Y. M. I. and more loyal supporters of the new Bishop.

HAPPY NUNS.

Five Ursuline Sisters Celebrate Their Silver Jubilee.

Five Ursuline nuns celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of their reception into the order on Tuesday. The jubilarians were Sister Mary Denis, of Cumberland; Sister Mary de Chautel, of Owensboro; Sister Mary Scholastica, of St. Boniface's school; Sister Mary Paula and Sister Mary Scholastica, both of St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum.

The initial feature of the jubilee celebration was the high mass celebrated by the Rev. Father John Bohlsen in the Ursuline chapel. The five jubilarians and the entire community received holy communion and offered up prayers of thanksgiving for the five nuns. After the mass the routine avocations were dispensed with for the day, and the time was spent in festive rejoicing. Many local friends of the nuns and a number of relatives from outside the city called to wish them many more years of blessed usefulness.

RECENT DEATHS.

Maurice Gorman, a venerable resident of the East End, died on Wednesday, and his remains reposed in Barrett's mortuary chapel until the funeral, which took place from St. John's church on Thursday morning. Many old friends attended the requiem mass.

The funeral of Felix Gross, who died on Friday morning of last week, took place from the Cathedral on Sunday afternoon. Many friends of the deceased attended his obsequies. The deceased was forty-four years old. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Katherine Grayish.

The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Keane, widow of Michael Keane and an old and highly esteemed resident of New Albany, whose death occurred on Wednesday, took place from St. John's church on Thursday morning at Holy Trinity church, of which she had long been a faithful member. Mrs. Keane was sixty-nine years of age and is survived by four children.

Miss Anna Belle Feeney, one of the most popular young ladies in the East End, died at her home, 1933 West Walnut street, on Friday morning of last week. Her funeral took place from St. Charles Borromeo church on Sunday afternoon. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Bridget Hoek, a sister, Miss Catherine Feeney, and a brother, Edward Feeney. The deceased was held in high esteem by all who knew her.

Mrs. John Gavin, a respected matron of St. Louis Bertrand church, died at her home, 706 Florence Place, early Tuesday morning. She had been ill several weeks, and her death was not unexpected. The deceased was fifty-four years old, and was the wife of Martin Gavin, a retired grocer. Her mother, Mrs. Ellen Glenn, a sister, Mrs. Catherine Kiree, and two brothers, Dennis and John Glenn, also survive. Her funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church Thursday morning and was largely attended.

The funeral of Herman Elling, who died Tuesday, took place with solemn ceremony yesterday morning at St. Martin's church. Mr. Elling was born in Germany, but had spent the greater part of his life in this city, where he was held in high esteem by all classes. His death was due to grief over the death of his wife and old age. Three sons, the Rev. Bernard Elling, of Bunley, Mich.; Henry Elling, of Volz & Michael, and Frank Elling, manager of the delivery department for the Stewart Dry Goods Company, and two daughters, Misses Mary and Josephine Elling, survive him.

BOSTON ROWDIES.

The entire country was surprised on Tuesday to read in the dispatches that in cultured Boston certain vandals had attacked a club house temporarily occupied by the pastor of Sacred Heart church, Worcester. Stones were thrown and many windows were wrecked. One stone struck the foot of the bed which was occupied by the Rev. Father Bernard Doherty, of Paynesville, Ky. Fortunately Father Doherty was not injured. He went East to spend a well earned vacation a short time ago. Boston police authorities are on the trail of the vandals.

DOMINICANS

Will Honor Patron Saint With Fitting and Solemn Ceremonies.

Franciscan Fathers Will Officiate at the Solemn Festal Mass.

Vicar General Cronin Will Preach Panegyric of Rosary Apostle.

REVERED IN OLD KENTUCKY

Thursday will be St. Dominic's day, the patron saint of the Dominicans, but the solemn observation will take place on Sunday, August 7. In Louisville the Dominicans are preparing for a big day at St. Louis Bertrand's church. As is customary, the Franciscans of St. Boniface church will officiate at the solemn high mass. St. Dominic and St. Francis of Assisi were contemporaries and friends. Each succeeding year the Franciscans invite the Dominicans to officiate for them on St. Francis day, and on St. Dominic's day the compliment is returned.

The panegyric of St. Dominic this year will be preached by the Very Rev. James P. Cronin, pastor of St. Patrick's church and Vicar General of the diocese. Many local priests will be present in the sanctuary. The choir of St. Louis Bertrand church will sing the Gregorian music.

St. Dominic, who founded the devotion of the holy rosary, was born at Calaruega, a small town in the diocese of Osma, Spain. He was educated at the University of Palencia, which was afterward removed to Salamanca. Church historians tell us that from the time he came to the use of reason he appeared to have had a heart burning with the love of God and a consequent horror of sin, coupled with an unquenchable zeal for the promotion of God's honor and service among his rational creatures.

At the time of Dominic's ordination the Bishop of Osma was distressed by the laxity and tepidity of many of his clergy. He wished to introduce a regular and quasi-monastic life among the canons of his Cathedral, and young Dominic in his zeal appeared a fit instrument for the purpose.

In 1204 he accompanied his Bishop to France on a diplomatic mission. While there Dominic noticed with distress the evil that was being wrought by the Albigensian heretics. A year later Dominic was in the Province of Lauguedoc, France, preaching against the heresy. He was unattended by splendid retinues. From the start his words were heard attentively. During one of his nights of prayer the Blessed Virgin appeared to him in a vision and bade him preach her rosary. From that time he used the rosary as a subject for preaching and teaching, and to this day the followers of St. Dominic have a great devotion to that form of prayer. Other zealous young men from Spain and France joined St. Dominic from time to time, until 1215, when his community was composed of sixteen men. All were prepared to embrace any rule of life that Dominic might prescribe. Finally Dominic obtained consent from Pope Innocent III. to establish his new order.

Biographers tell us that the chief articles of the rule enjoined perpetual silence, there being no time when conversation was permitted without leave from the superior; fasts almost without interruption from September 14 until Easter; complete abstinence from meat, except in serious illness; the use of woollen garments in place of linen; rigorous poverty and many other austerities.

The first Dominican monastery was built at Toulouse, France, in 1216, and in the same year Pope Honorius III. published a bull fully legalizing the order established by St. Dominic under the title of Preaching Brothers. Rapidly houses were established under his management at Paris, Metz and Venice. The first general chapter was held at Bologna in 1221. At that time the order numbered sixty convents. The Dominican order has contributed three Popes to the roll of Roman Pontiffs, more than sixty Cardinals, 140 Archbishops and more than 800 Bishops. St. Rose of Lima, the first American saint canonized, was a Dominican nun. Albertus Magnus, St. Thomas Aquinas, St. Raymond, St. Hyacinth and hundreds of other Dominicans were preachers and teachers of the true faith.

Kentuckians revere Dominicans for another reason. The order had its first foundation in the United States at Springfield in 1807. St. Rose Monastery and St. Catherine of Sienna Convent are lasting monuments to the zeal of the white robed sons and daughters of St. Dominic.

CALLER TOO SOON.

The funeral of William A. J. Gavin, who died at the family residence, 2527 West Main street, on Friday morning of last week, took place from St. Cecilia's church on Monday morning, and the throng that gathered at the requiem mass showed in some degree the esteem in which he was held. Mr. Gavin was twenty-eight years old. He received his preliminary education in the local parochial schools and then attended Gethsemane College. For several years prior to his death he had been Secretary and Treasurer of the Southern Law and Adjustment Company. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Winifred Gavin, and a brother, J. O. Gavin.

GLAD TIDINGS.

Rev. Father Rock Recovers From a Fainting Spell.

The Very Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock, rector of the Cathedral, who suffered from fainting spells on Wednesday, and whose condition for a while alarmed his friends, is much improved and it is believed out of danger. Father Rock has been suffering from a severe case of stomach trouble, but kept on with his strenuous parish work.

His many friends and admirers, both Catholic and non-Catholic, will be glad to hear of his speedy restoration to health. For nearly forty years Father Rock has labored indefatigably in this diocese. A native of Ireland, he brought with him to America the zeal of his native Armagh and the Irish spirit that never says quit. In Louisville he has proven a priest in all the word implies, an ardent Irishman and a staunch supporter of all that is good in American institutions.

It was Father Rock that made possible the recent embellishment of the interior of the Cathedral. He planned; others executed. It is hoped that he will live many more years and that his labors may be lightened to a point commensurate with his physical strength.

GREAT JOY

For People of St. John's Over a Favorite Son.

Tomorrow will be a gala day for the people of St. John's parish, for another of their boys will sing his first solemn high mass at 10 o'clock. The new minister of God is the Rev. Francis O'Connor, who was ordained in Rome last month. After completing his preliminary studies in the United States he spent five years at the American College in Rome. Father O'Connor is a son of Mrs. Lucy O'Connor, President of the Altar Society of St. John's church, and of the late James O'Connor. He is a brother of Christopher O'Connor, one of the leading merchants of Indianapolis, and of Charles J. Robert, Dr. Bernard and Attorney Alexander O'Connor.

The solemn high mass will begin at 10 o'clock with Father O'Connor as celebrant. The Rev. Father George W. Schumann, D. D., will be the assistant priest, and the deacon and subdeacon respectively will be the Rev. Father Michael Melody, Chaplain of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, and the Rev. Father John D. Kalaher, pastor of St. Columba's church. The officers of the mass have been chosen fittingly. Fathers O'Connor and Kalaher were baptized at St. John's. Fathers Melody, Kalaher and O'Connor, though separated in age, received their first schooling and made their first communion at St. John's, and all had been imbued with religious zeal by the rector emeritus, the venerable Father Bax. Father Schumann, the present pastor of St. John's, will preach the sermon. After the mass Father O'Connor will impart the Papal blessing to those present, a special privilege granted him by his Holiness Pope Pius X.

Father O'Connor is the fifth to celebrate his first mass in local churches within the month. Others were Fathers Secundo Mensa, Patrick Monaghan, Joseph Grewelling and Joseph Herms.

ALL PLEASED.

Mother Praxides Chosen to Succeed Herself as Superior.

Mother Praxides, for fourteen years the Mother Superior of the Sisters of Loretto, has been re-elected for another term. She is held in high esteem by former pupils and graduates of Loretto Academy as well as by the members of the community of which she is head. Mother Wilfred was chosen to fill the office of Vice-rector, the second highest place in the community. Mother Posine was selected to be the head of the big academy conducted by the Sisters of Loretto at Las Cruces, New Mexico. Other officers of the order chosen were Mother Victorine, Secretary; Mother Mary Thomas, Procuratrix; Mother Francesca, Local Superior; Mothers Evangelista and Laurencia, members of the Council.

Reports from the various institutions showed that the order was in a flourishing condition spiritually and temporally.

BANKS CLOSE EARLY.

Beginning August 6 the banks and trust companies of Louisville will close at 1 o'clock every Saturday. This is in accordance with a bill passed by the Kentucky Legislature that became a law on St. Patrick's day four years ago. The vote of the Clearing House Association was unanimous, and the bank employees are elated over the added time granted them for recreation and rest.

SOCIAL SIDE

Of Hibernian Convention Was Made More Than Usually Attractive.

Big Banquet at Portland Armory Attended By Sixteen Hundred.

Street Parade and Illuminated Floats Gave Views of Ireland.

BOAT, TROLLEY AND SIDE TRIPS

There was a great social side as well as a business side to the Ancient Order of Hibernian national convention at Portland last week, and the delegates to the Ladies' Auxiliary convention were in on everything that happened. On Wednesday night there was a big banquet at the Portland Armory. No less than 1,600 guests sat down to the feast. Dr. Andrew G. Smith, of Portland, presided as toastmaster. The first speaker was the Most Rev. Alexander Christie, Archbishop of Portland. He responded to the toast, the "Holy Father." Bishop Carroll, of Helena, Mont., responded to "The President," and paid tribute to Mr. Taft. "The A. O. H." was the theme of National President Cummings, and in his address he took occasion to say: "Ireland will support Germany if ever fights England. The price of her support to England will be the loss of Ireland's freedom."

Joseph Folk, former Governor of Missouri, delivered an address enigmistic of woman and was given repeated and prolonged applause.

While the feast was in progress the Portland Capella Chorus of 105 voices sang a number of American and Irish airs. From an instrumental point of view "Dixie" caught the crowd and when it was applauded "Maryland, My Maryland" was given. Mrs. Raymond A. Sullivan, of Portland, sang "The Star Spangled Banner," while the audience stood at attention. In response to encores she sang "Killarney" and "The Last Rose of Summer." Probably the most popular selection of the evening was the solo and chorus "O'Donnell Abo!"

On Thursday night there was a big street parade. Led the Morning Oregonian tell about that: "A whirling sea of Irish faces, glimpses of the old sod alone and in its American associations, stirring little pictures of the youngest and most beautiful Irish-America has to offer—these were some of the things the great parade of the Ancient Order of Hibernians brought forth. It was typically Hibernian. The singing of the pathetic Irish airs with which the whole world is acquainted, the playing by the bands of rollicking Irish music made the ever temperamental crowd feel all the shades of emotion."

"Every cross street was jammed with automobiles, the streets lined with an eager pressing throng. Irish yells were frequently heard, but then, everything was Irish, and more than 2,000 delegates took part in the parade. None could question the sincerity of these people. Led by their national officers they made a brave and inspiring sight. It was impossible not to sympathize with the old Irish woman who stood at Sixth and Morrison streets and called her commendation to her boy, mounted as an assistant to the Chief Marshal, in broadest Irish accent. As the tears rolled down her face she told her son he was a credit to the home country."

A striking feature of the parade were the illuminated floats. Robed in white with a green band bearing the word Tacoma stretched across the bosoms of their gowns, twenty-one young women from the City of Destiny rode by. One float represented the national ensign. It was drawn by four horses and surrounded by torch bearers, and the flag was born on a shield. Ahead as guards stood two soldiers of colonial times, in the rear two soldiers of today. Then came the Shamrock float representing "All Ireland." Ahead was a map of Ireland shown by counties. Rowing from it was a typical Irishman standing upright. Just across the sea was Uncle Sam greeting the newcomer with outstretched hand. A score of pretty Portland children attired in white and green formed the background. The final float showed Admiral Jack Barry on the deck of the frigate Lexington. The Governor, the Archbishop, the Circuit Judges and the Mayor were proud to ride in this procession. Besides the banquet and street parade the visitors were given trolley rides and steamboat rides galore.

RESTING COMFORTABLY.

Miss Nellie Finegan, who sustained a broken arm in falling from a Barrett avenue car on Wednesday of last week, is resting as comfortably as possible at the family residence, 1039 South Sixth street. The accident occurred when the car from which she was alighting started suddenly.

CATHOLIC VICTORY.

According to press cables the British House of Commons has passed the second reading of the bill eliminating the language objectionable to Catholics in the King's accession oath. Its passage was brought about by a vote of 410 to eighty-four. While the new oath eliminates that part of the declaration pronouncing Catholics idolaters, it inserts a clause which reads: "And declare that I am a faithful member of the Protestant church."

It is believed that all difficulties have been removed and that the bill will survive the committee stage and be accepted by the House of Lords without further trouble.

Score one for the courage and fairness of King George V. It was at his dictum that the language objectionable to so many of his subjects was eliminated.

DUTY OF PARENTS.

The vacation season is drawing to a close, but in the meantime parents who intend sending their children to Catholic colleges or academies ought to become acquainted with the advantages offered by the institutions that are bidding for their patronage. The best way to ascertain these advantages is by reading the advertisements of these colleges and academies in a Catholic paper. The academy or college that has real advantages to offer know the value of advertising in the Catholic press. Those who fail to advertise may have certain light, but they are hiding it under a bushel.

Catholic fathers and mothers, your children deserve all you can give them in the way of education. Give them the best, even if you have to make sacrifices. Remember that the Christian education must come first.

NOTE OF WARNING.

His Eminence Cardinal James Gibbons celebrated the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birth last Saturday. Despite his advanced age the mind of this able churchman is bright and clear. In the course of an interview he sounded again the warning note against the evil of the American divorce system. In part he said:

"We are facing the gravest question of civilization just now—the divorce. The church discourages divorce because it is discouraged by higher divinity than the institution of the church. Christ, in his sermon on the mount, said that a woman could have only one husband and that if she was divorced and married again she spent her life in sin with her second or third husband, as the case might have been. It is appalling to think that women of today marry four or five times. Some women seem so thoughtless about the noblest right that they give more attention to the selection of a new gown than they do to divorce and marriage. Not only the church but all society must unite to discourage this festering institution. Divorcees should be made social outcasts; that would be hard in some cases, but the sacrifice would be worth the end."

Every Catholic wants to see the great American Ship of State sail proudly on, and if she is to continue her proud course, the warning of Cardinal Gibbons must be heard and heeded.

TIMELY SUGGESTIONS.

"What is there in Irish character that makes its people recreant in the support of the papers that are devoted to their interests?" asks the esteemed editor of the Boston Hibernian. He asks further questions and makes timely comments on the subject in this wise:

"It is indifference or lack of knowledge of the costs. There is no paper in the country that goes regularly to its readers but costs far more than the readers have any idea of. They do not realize that the bills of the printer have to be met every issue. They receive it regularly and the inference is that they take more or less pleasure in taking it from the post office, but they show far less regard for the fact of whether their subscriptions are paid up to date or in arrears. If anything happens that an Irishman is defrauded of his rights and the paper takes the matter up and lays bare the fraud, they are loudly vocal in their applauding of its efforts, but they do not think of their own obligation in the matter, even though they may be two or three if not more years behind in the matter of their subscriptions. The editor has been many years in the newspaper business, but he is

Has Daring Plans For Raising Battleship Maine.

John E. O'Rourke, of New York, the Irish-American engineer who bridged the Hudson at Poughkeepsie and drove the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel under the North river, has laid before Acting Secretary of War Oliver his plan for raising the Maine from the mud of Havana harbor. This newest plan is based upon a system of pneumatic caissons, such as have made possible the building of extremely deep foundations under water and which contributed largely to the success of the building of tunnels under the Hudson. No divers are used, and the pontoon system is put completely aside. The method proposed is to swing the Maine in a cradle of powerful cables and lift her completely out of the water, where a complete inspection of her hull will be possible. While the ship is suspended above water O'Rourke declares she can be repaired as readily as if she were in dry dock, and after being relaunched from her own steam. This is said to be the first plan yet proposed which would present the ship to a naval board in precisely the same condition as she sunk on the night of February 15, 1898.

THIEMAN IS TREASURER.

QUEBEC.

Knights of Columbus Will Hold Convention Next Week.

The Knights of Columbus will hold their twenty-eighth national convention at Quebec, beginning on Tuesday, August 2, and continuing three days. It promises to be the best convention ever held by the Knights. In the first place it will afford an opportunity for a rare outing, coupled with the pleasure to be derived from visiting old Catholic shrines and landmarks and beholding the unequalled scenery of Canada. Another reason for the increased attendance will be the increase in the number of Knights during the past twelve months.

The Quebec Knights have a $75,000 home. There they will receive and extend hospitality to the visitors. On the morning of Tuesday, August 2, the Knights will march in procession from Columbus building to the Basilica, where Pontifical mass will be celebrated by the Right Rev. Monsignor Roy, Auxiliary Bishop of Quebec. The Right Rev. Dr. M. J. Fallon, Bishop of London, Ontario, will preach a sermon in English, and the Rev. Canon Gauthier, of Montreal, will preach the sermon in French.

The formal opening of the convention is scheduled for 11 o'clock. Addresses of welcome will be made by Mayor Dronin and Dr. A. A. Dassault, State Deputy, Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty, of Philadelphia, will respond in behalf of the visitors. After that the ordinary business will be taken up, but time each day has been allotted for visiting noted shrines and points of interest.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing the Past Week—General News Notes.

There are nine divisions of the Ladies' Auxiliary in San Francisco. The Ladies' Auxiliary of Muncie, Ind., gave its juveniles a picnic last week.

State President Butler and County President Welsh are expected home next week.

Last week the Ladies' Auxiliary of Utica, N. Y., added seven new members to the order.

Division 4 held a short business session Monday and then adjourned to go to the picnic.

The Hibernian Rifles of Syracuse will drill next Wednesday and then have a trolley ride.

Quebec Hibernians have arranged to hold the annual pilgrimage to Grosse Isle on Sunday, August 7.

Division 15 of San Francisco is organizing a military company, to be recruited from the building trades.

Division 1 will make Irish-American day at Fontaine Ferry Park on August 10 the greatest event in its history.

Dr. Charles L. Edelen will deliver a lecture to the members of Division 4 at their meeting on Monday, August 22.

Division 3 meets Monday night, when President Sullivan will have some very important reports for the members.

Every member of Division 1 should be present Tuesday night, when the election of alternate delegates will take place.

Great preparations are being made for the Colorado State convention at Pueblo on August 16. Denver will send seven lady delegates.

Old Jupiter Pluvius prevented the County Board from having the most successful picnic of its career. The rain kept thousands away.

In accordance with a resolution of the County Board at Rome, N. Y., $25 in prizes will be awarded the best students in Irish history.

Kentucky Hibernians are elated over the election of National President Reagan. Our delegates were among his strongest supporters.

William Cusick made a hit as the announcer at the candy wheel last Monday night. He certainly knew how to get results.

Martha Washington, Columbia, York, Robert Emmet, Star of the Sea and O'Connell are some of the names borne by the auxiliaries of San Francisco.

Next Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary will begin arrangements for the trip to the Ashland convention. All members are urged to be at this meeting.

James J. Riley, of the Louisville Packing Company, who has been laid up with an injured leg for some time, is now out, but is not able enough to do a highland fling.

Recently several classes were initiated at Logansport, Ind. The Hibernians are now one of that city's oldest societies, as they were organized thirty-five years ago.

President Con Ford, Will Meehan, Joe Lynch, John Keane, Raymond Barrett, Edward Keiran and others are doing excellent work on the programme for the reunion of Division 2 at Phoenix Hill.

Among the workers for the Ancient Order Andy Kast is a leader. He and Henry Nitzken led the Genuin Monday night at Phoenix Hill, and captured the prize and everything they went after.

Miss Mary Corcoran has returned from Covington and Newport where she spent ten days as the guest of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary. She declares that the up-State girls showed her an excellent time.

The Hibernians of Anacosta, Mont., have freed their $30,000 home of debt. It is a handsome two-story stone and brick building, 150 feet front and 140 feet deep, comprising three halls with stores combined.

The National Board should make no change in the editorship of the official paper. Editor Haltigan has made the National Hibernian the greatest fraternal paper in the country, and any change would be a most serious mistake.

NEW PLAN ADOPTED.
The Louisville bowlers have originated a plan which promises to be the best plan ever adopted in organizing leagues and classifying bowlers. The bowlers are now classified thus: Average, 180 or better in class A, 170 to 180 in class B, 160 to 170 in class C, and under that in class D. This prevents the high average bowler jumping into a medium class league and winning all the prizes or a high average team the same way. All leagues will be governed by the same constitution and by-laws of the Louisville Bowling Association, of which S. P. Owen and A. F. Martin are the President and Secretary. Class A or the high average bowlers have organized with the following team: Queen of Nelson, B. & O. R. K. Pabst Blue Ribbon, Frank Fehr, Kentucky Dew, Old Dutch, Old Charter and Falls City Brewery, all of which teams will be entered in the national tournament at St. Louis in January.

LITTLE DOING.
Because of the banquet Monday night Mackin Council did not meet until Tuesday, when the business was all of a routine nature. Reports were received that the Niagara Falls excursion was an assured success, and that good work was being done for the memorial window and lawn fete. President Kenney announced that the members on the sick list were all improving.

RESTING COMFORTABLY.
Little Louise Cassin, the three-year-old daughter of Capt. Mike Cassin, Assistant Fire Chief, who was bitten by a pet dog on Tuesday of last week, is resting easy and is now believed to be out of danger.

FRIENDS ALARMED.

The many friends of John Cusick, a venerable resident of Louisville and veteran of the Union army in the Civil War, are alarmed over his serious illness. Mr. Cusick is seventy years of age, and a native of Ireland. For many years he was an employee of W. H. McKnight & Sons, but retired a year ago. He is an uncle of Martin J. and Peter Cusick.

SUNSET EXCURSION.

Mackin Council will give a sunset excursion on the Ohio river this evening. The steamer Columbia, carrying the excursionists, will leave the First street wharf promptly at 5:30 o'clock. In addition to dancing there will be an excellent vaudeville programme. It promises to be a very select affair.

TRANSFERRED.

Sister Mary Martha, who has been so long and favorably known as the head of St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum in Clifton, has been transferred to the Preston Park Orphanage, and will enter upon her new charge with the arrival of the children from the old St. Thomas Asylum at Bardstown.

RECOVERING.

Mrs. Mary Curran, who was seriously injured several weeks ago by falling into the cellar at the home of Brainard Lenox, 1134 Cherokee road, is rapidly improving at St. Anthony's Hospital, and it is thought she will soon be able to leave there.

CHILD'S DRESS.

The prettiest way to dress a child is the simplest, and the simplest way is always the easiest. Nothing could be more fetching, require less trimming, or be made in less time than the low French waist line, short, ruffy skirt that stands out from the tiny knees, and little puff sleeves, combining to make a most attractive frock. The waist is perfectly plain, with the exception of a group of tucks on each shoulder, and the only finish required by the skirt is a deep hem at the lower edge. Pink and white dimity, with a stripe of embroidery insertion at neck and sleeves, and a dashing sash of wide pink ribbon, will make an afternoon or Sunday dress, while blue chambray with clear water and white plaid ribbons is a more sensible choice for every day.

WASHING SILK STOCKINGS.

After trying several ways to wash silk stockings and failing, I have now met with great success in using this method: Make soapsuds of lukewarm water, using a good grade of castile soap. Do not use hot water, as it destroys the life of the silk. Rinse in cold water until free from all soap, then pull the stockings lengthwise and press with a warm iron, which will restore the original gloss. Never use hot iron.

CHICKEN SPAGHETTI.

Boil thoroughly one chicken. Mince meat fine. Boil two five-cent packages of spaghetti twenty-five minutes in hot chicken broth. Remove the seeds from two cans of tomatoes and the juice of two onions. Put in baking dish. Layer of spaghetti and tomatoes, then layer of chicken, then layer of cheese, until all is used. Bake thirty minutes. Serve hot.

INEXPENSIVE DISINFECTANT.

An inexpensive disinfectant for a sick room can be made as follows: Put some ground coffee in saucer and in the middle place a small piece of camphor gum. Light the gum with a match. As the gum allows the coffee to burn with it the smell is most refreshing and healthful.

LATEST IN STYLES.

Pink linen is extremely fashionable. Heavy embroidery is used on linens.

All the new neckwear shows the effect of the frill.

The girle is a pronounced feature of the best gowns.

The kimono to or below the elbow leads all others in sleeves.

Burly suiting is one of the fashionable new fabrics of the season.

Much lace and even malines is seen on some of the latest silk petticoats.

Foulard veiled with chiffon makes up simple little afternoon or visiting gowns.

The veiled effect of both embroidery and lace is pretty and unique.

Tiny bows of narrow black velvet ribbon adorn many of the blouses of lingerie.

The newest shoes are arched for the shortening effect and have a medium vamp.

Dotted Swiss is much used this season. It is striking to have the dot done in black.

Embroidered chiffon gowns are made over heavy satin; black over white is especially smart.

The black taffeta silk coats quite covered with silk braid are popular with middle aged women.

Pierrot collars to supplement the low neck and protect the throat on occasion are in great demand.

Now custom allows any woman to whom the fashion is becoming to bare her neck for every waking hour.

A new green, dark and deep, goes by the pretty name of "scarabee," and is not unlike the tone of the antique gem.

Many of the new Dutch collars are of lace, with jabot or double stole attached. One pretty one has the jabot fastened to the square collar by means of large pearl buttons, so that it forms a vast effect.

STOMACH TELESCOPE.

A stomach telescope, invented by a London surgeon and in constant use in a hospital in that city, enables a doctor to see the exact condition of the entire interior of a patient's stomach.

IRELAND.

Rev. John Glynn and Rev. John Brennan, both of Sligo, have been ordained to the priesthood by the Most Rev. Dr. Clancy, Bishop of Elphin.

The many friends of Dr. James L. Somers regret to learn of his death, which occurred recently in his seventy-third year, at his residence at Roscrea.

At the Louth Summer Assizes Justice Dodd, addressing the grand jury, said there was very little for them to do. There were only two cases to go before them.

A terrible tragedy occurred at Ballydrum, where Thomas Moore killed his four children under circumstances of shocking brutality. Moore is believed to be insane.

The death is announced from Drogheda of Dr. J. W. Adrien, whose grandfather, also a medical man, attended Lord Edward Fitzgerald in Newgate prison, Dublin.

Deep regret was occasioned among many friends by the death of Dr. John Keogh, M. D., which occurred after a brief illness at his residence at Killahee, County Clare.

The parishioners and the numerous friends throughout the diocese, lay and clerical, deeply regret the death of Rev. Richard Phelan, which occurred at his residence, Cahir.

The dead body of a young man named Peter Lydon, who had gone out to fish at Corrib, near Killavin, has been found on the lake shore, his boat being discovered in a shattered condition about forty yards away.

In the Courthouse at Cavan Justice of the Peace grand jury, of which John Fay was foreman, said that there were three bills to go before them. The reports showed that the state of the county as a whole was very satisfactory.

The consecration of the magnificent new church at Terryglass, County Tipperary, was performed by the Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty, Bishop of Killahee. Terryglass is a historic little village, situated on the Tipperary shore of Lough Derg, and is renowned as a beauty spot.

HARD ROAD TRIP.

The Louisville club will meet St. Paul again this afternoon, a double header tomorrow and then journey to Minneapolis for a series of four games, and from there to Kansas City, Milwaukee and Indianapolis in turn. With the exception of Indianapolis all of these teams are going good and our crippled Colonels will have a hard road to travel and are hardly expected to break even on the trip. It is hoped that before the team returns home Jimmy Doyle will be back at third-base and with Bohannon, Stanley and Fisher for the outfielders a strong line-up will be presented and have a chance to climb a couple of notches away from last place. The team as above would certainly give a good account of themselves as hitters, as we would have Hughes, Howard, Robinson, Doyle, Bohannon and Stanley, six good hitters out of nine men.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

The Forty Hours' prayer will begin at the Church of St. Aloysius with the high mass tomorrow morning and conclude Tuesday. Father O'Grady will be assisted by a number of visiting priests, and it is but natural to expect that these beautiful devotions will be largely attended by residents of the Highlands.

DESERVED PROMOTION.

Steve Obst, a popular fireman, has been made Captain of Engine Company No. 10. Capt. Obst has made a faithful and an efficient fire fighter. Those who know him best believe he will make a capable Captain. His father, Charles Obst, Sr., was a Captain in the fire department for twenty-five years or more.

CHANGE IN PASTORS.

Rev. Father James Shea, pastor of St. Francis' church at Henryville, Ind., has been transferred to a larger parish at Cambridge City. He will be succeeded by the Rev. Father Clardy, of Indianapolis. The people of Henryville are loath to lose Father Shea, yet they rejoice that he has merited promotion.

WERE DELIGHTED

With Success of the Picnic
Given by County
Board.

The picnic at Phoenix Hill Park under the auspices of the County Board, A. O. H., on Monday night, notwithstanding a very heavy down-pour of rain and thunderstorm about the hour that many people were ready to start for the park, was a splendid success. Some of the timid ones remained at home, but rain and lightning had no terrors for many. Several hundred people enjoyed the afternoon euchre, and this number was augmented by hundreds of others after the storm clouds had passed away.

It was a happy and a social gathering of Irish-Americans. It would seem that everybody was bent on having a good time and wanted everybody else to do the same thing. Even the babies entered into the spirit of the evening. They quietly went to sleep in their go carts, were rolled into the cloak room, checked and left to slumber while the parents danced. The candy wheel, the country store, the euchre, refreshment stands and dancing hall were all well patronized.

A unique feature was the chief speaker, Andy Kast, who by seeming to be everywhere at once, earned the sobriquet of the "Flying Irish Ditchman." He was at home with everybody and now declares that since the Hibernians will not adopt him he will adopt the Hibernians. Andy is a firm believer in the German-Irish alliance. The Presidents of the four divisions, Thomas Walsh, Con J. Ford, Patrick T. Sullivan and John H. Hennessy, were on hand to see that their respective divisions carried out their share of the programme. Too much credit can not be given D. J. Coleman, Treasurer of the County Board, for his earnest endeavors. Miss Rose Sweeney, President of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and Mrs. Daniel Dougherty, the Treasurer, also did their share to make the picnic a success. Mrs. Thomas Keenan worked hard in the refreshment stand.

The young ladies contesting for the diamond ring worked hard. Miss Jella May Hession won the first prize. She is the charming daughter of John Hession, Financial Secretary of Division 3, and a member of the firm of M. J. Winn & Co. Miss Mary May Graney, backed by Division 2, won the second prize, while Misses Mamie Curran and Katie Lally ran third and fourth respectively. Each of the contestants received a ring as a reward for their earnest work.

All in all, it was an outing for the Hibernians to be proud of.

SAD SHOCK

To Friends When Philip J.
Watson Passed Away.

When it was announced on Tuesday that Philip J. Watson had died early that morning, many of his warmest friends could hardly believe it. Only a few days before he had been hale and hearty. Few outside of his immediate family knew that he had been operated on for appendicitis. Mr. Watson was the book-keeper and manager for Bonnie Bros. Phil Watson, as his friends called him, was born in Louisville forty-four years ago and had lived here all his life. He was a graduate of St. Xavier's College, and soon after leaving that institution he became a clerk in a big Main street house. He was recognized as an expert book-keeper and faithful employee. His home was at 3728 High avenue. Mr. Watson represented his ward in the General Council one term, and at the time of his death was Secretary of the Portland Progressive Club.

The deceased is survived by his wife, who was Miss Agnes Cassilly, and the following children: Virginia, Philip, Grace, Robert, Elizabeth, Max and William Allen Watson. Mr. Watson had been a member of Louisville Council, Knights of Columbus, for ten years.

The funeral took place from the Church of Our Lady, Portland, Thursday morning, and was attended by a throng of sorrowing friends.

HOLY CROSS PETE.

The people of Holy Cross parish invite their friends from all parts of the city to come down either Monday or Tuesday evening to their lawn fete, to be held on the church grounds, Thirty-second and Broadway, from 5 to 10 o'clock. A bounteous Dutch supper will be served by the ladies of the congregation for only fifteen cents, and there will also be music and refreshments in plenty. The committee in charge includes Joseph Fontana, Col. John H. Whallen, Squire George Berry and Alderman B. J. Campbell. They arranged a varied and original programme of amusements for each evening, and an enjoyable time is in store for all who attend.

For both nights the most elaborate decorations were attempted at an affair of this kind have been provided. Three 4,000 candle power electric lights have been installed on the grounds, and these with the hundreds of fancy lanterns will present a most pleasing picture.

FRIENDS WERE SHOCKED.

Friends in Louisville and Jeffersonville were deeply shocked when they learned of the death of Mrs. John Moran, who was Miss Mary Goss, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Ellen Goss, near Henryville, Ind., on Sunday evening. With her husband, who for years was Superintendent of the Louisville Packing Company, Mrs. Moran resided at Toledo, Ohio, until a few months ago, when she returned to Louisville to undergo treatment for cancer. Five weeks ago she went to the home of her mother, where she died. Mrs. Moran was fifty-two years old and was born near Henryville. She was widely known in the Falls Cities for her many virtues and activity in charitable work. Besides her husband she leaves her mother and several brothers and sisters. The funeral took place Wednesday morning and was one of the largest seen for a long time in Southern Indiana.

WELL KNOWN PRIEST DEAD.

Rev. Father Nicholas J. Kelley, a well known and loved Cincinnati priest, who was recently sent to Mount Clemens, Mich., for his health, died there last Saturday morning. The body was returned to Cincinnati and the funeral was held from the Cathedral in which parish he was a boy. Father Kelley was ordained twenty-four years ago.

SEASON AT HEIGHT.

The season at the Cliff Haven Catholic Summer School is now at its height. If the large attendance at the Sunday masses in the Chapel of Our Lady of the Lake is a fair criterion. The lectures for the fifth week have been quite exceptional. The splendid course in education inaugurated by the Rev. Dr. Pace has been continued by the Rev. William Turner, D. D., Professor of Philosophy at the Catholic University. The boys of the college camp, the liveliest place on the assembly grounds, gave good evidence of what the American lad can do at their camp fire Tuesday evening. The programme consisted of minstrel, vaudeville, burlesque, songs, dances and quartet numbers. The lecture programme for next week includes the course in education by the Rev. William Turner, D. D., and the series on the "Church the Bulwark of the Republic," by Rev. John H. O'Rourke, S. J. The evening periods will be taken by Thomas F. Wilkinson, LL. B., of Albany, and song recitals by Miss Berthe Clary, of New York.

FONTAINE FERRY.

The best vaudeville bill of the season is promised at Fontaine Ferry next week. Ida Fuller, the great dancer, will be the headliner. Other star attractions will be the Five Musical Suffragettes, late of the Ladies' Fadettes' Orchestra; Carl McCullough, a clever character singer and mimic; Forbes and Bowman, late of George Cohan's "American Idea," and Merritt and Love, singing comedians. Miss Clara Punch will be the new vocal soloist with Gregg's band.

PICTURE OFFERING.

A line-up of motion pictures, which the Orpheum and Casino designate as the "brag bills" of the summer season, are announced for the coming week. Only the latest and best films will be shown, and the programme will be rounded with original illustrated songs.

ENCOURAGING

Attendance at Meeting of
St. Vincent de Paul
Society.

Between 600 and 700 members of the St. Vincent de Paul Society attended the 7:30 o'clock mass and received holy communion at the Cathedral last Sunday morning. After the mass the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donnoghue preached a brief but thoughtful sermon on charity, praised the work of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and urged the members of the local conferences to continue their work.

In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the general meeting of the society was held in St. Francis Hall, in the basement of the Cathedral. J. J. Caffrey, the newly elected President of the Particular Council, was in the chair. He announced that he had not had time to select permanent subordinate officers and committeemen. The Rev. Father Eugene P. Donohue, the new Chaplain of the Particular Council, made a stirring address that aroused all to greater exertions. The Very Rev. Rectors Louis G. Deppen and J. R. Clark, O. P., also spoke and encouraged the members to persevere in the great work of charity in which they were engaged.

The various conferences made their quarterly reports showing that the work of the society was being faithfully carried on. Each conference reported one or more new members, and, in all, about thirty new members were obligated. J. J. Caffrey, President of the Particular Council, announced that he was going abroad for several months, and that in his absence the affairs of the society would be in charge of First Vice President Al Smith and Treasurer William S. Schmidt.

Interest Now Centers in Election For Grand
President.

Interest in the coming Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute to be held soon at Bellevue is being awakened throughout the jurisdiction. The people of Bellevue will give the delegates and visitors a Kentucky welcome, and the town will be gaily decorated in honor of the Y. M. I., at it has one of the oldest councils in the State. To be elected Grand President is an honor coveted to every member of the order, and therefore the different councils are putting forth their favorites for the important position. From reliable sources it is learned that Sario Council, of Owensboro, will present the name of Fred Arnold for Grand President. He is one of the pioneers of the order, and as Owensboro expects to entertain the succeeding Grand Council the members of Sario, now one of the strongest councils in the country, feel that they have a just claim on the office. Chickasaw Council, of Memphis, has a candidate in George Lawo, who has served as Grand Director, and has filled many positions with signal ability. Louisville will also have a candidate in the person of Eugene Conroy, the present Grand Secretary, who has had a long and varied experience in the work of the Y. M. I., having filled every office in the gift of Trinity Council. While the contest will be friendly it promises to be interesting.

CALLED TO ETERNITY.

David Hannon, Sr., one of the oldest Irish American residents of this city, who had been ill at the family residence, 182 State street, for six months past, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. To make the occurrence doubly sad, Mrs. Hannon was seriously ill at the time her husband passed away. Mr. Hannon was a native of the County Wexford, Ireland, but had lived in Louisville more than half a century. The deceased is survived by his wife and the following children: Joseph Hannon, of Cincinnati; Michael, William, Edward and Lawrence Hannon and Mrs. Patrick Hussey. Rev. Father Michael Melody is a brother-in-law. The funeral will take place from the Church of the Blessed Sacrament this morning, and there will be many old friends present to pray "God rest the soul of Dave Hannon."

CLIFTON LAWN FETE.

The congregation of St. Frances of Rome church are working hard in preparation for the lawn fete to be given on the beautiful church lawn, Payne and Cavewood streets, on the afternoons and evenings of Wednesday and Thursday, August 3 and 4. The euchre games will be called at 2:30 o'clock each afternoon, and a substantial supper will be served from 5 o'clock until 8. Other amusements will be afforded for those who do not care for euchre. A fine piano donated by Prof. Hollywood is to be disposed of during the fete. A fine cook stove and many other handsome and useful articles are to be contested for. This growing congregation has enlarged its church recently and at considerable expense. Now the members are asking their friends to assist them in enlarging the parochial school building. In return a good time is promised all who attend.

PORTLAND VS. TASTE TELLS.

The Portland team will meet their old rivals, the Taste Tells of Indianapolis, at Portland Park tomorrow afternoon and another good game is expected. These two teams played eleven innings at their last meeting. The Portland team has been weakened the last several weeks by the absence of Williams, their crack short stop, from the line-up, owing to injuries, whose fielding and base running is greatly missed. The Taste Tells battery will be Miller and Schmidt, while Boardman and Brady will represent Portland.
